

WHEN PRESSURE IS RISING WE CREATE A WAY IN

A young person does not need to be ready for every change.
They need a first step that feels possible.

WHAT YOU MAY BE FACING

The pressure is real:

- Risk or emotions are escalating
- Attendance has collapsed
- Home or placement is under strain
- The young person distrusts support
- Professionals cannot gain traction
- Everyone needs a workable next step

THE COST OF WAITING

More pressure. Fewer options. A harder route back.

EARLY SIGNS OF IMPACT

- Accepts contact or stays longer
- Begins naming worries or needs
- Calms more quickly after escalation
- Reflects before reacting
- Re-engages with adults or education
- Shows hope, pride or direction

WHAT CHANGES FIRST?

The situation becomes safer, clearer and more workable.

QUICK IMPACT MEANS TRACTION

Not an instant fix - a situation that is more workable. A young person engaged. Pressure reduced. Adults clearer. Practical actions underway.

DO NOT WAIT FOR BREAKDOWN TO BECOME THE PLAN.
